ABSTRACT

A census of migrants residing in camps and housing facilities in 8 western New York State counties was conducted in 1968. A sample data form was sent to each known grower or owner before meeting with them. Where meetings could not be arranged, information was pieced together from other sources and reported as an estimate. Information for each county was in tabular form and included camp ethnicity; name of camp; town; New York State Health Identification Number; and the number of men, women, and children. A copy of the sample data form was in the appendix. (PS)

THE NEW YORK STATE CENTER FOR MIGRANT STUDIES

The New York State Center for Migrant Studies is an independent organization devoted to professional research in the areas of education, employment, community relations and other aspects of the conditions of migrant labor in the State of New York.

The principal purposes are to initiate studies relevant to understanding and improving the conditions of the migrant, and to publish and disseminate these studies. The New York State Center for Migrant Studies, co-sponsored by the New York State Education Department's Bureau of Migrant Education, John Dunn, Chief, and the State University College of Arts and Science at Geneseo, New York, Robert W. MacVittie, President, was founded in February 1968.

This study has been recommended for publication by the Publications Committee of the Executive Council of the Center as an important contribution to the understanding of the migrant problem. It has been approved by the Executive Council of the Advisory Board of the Center except as specifically indicated and supercedes all previous drafts released for private circulation prior to publication. However, the interpretations and conclusions of the study are those of the author and do not necessarily represent the official position of the Center.

holds an A.B. degree from the State University College at Oneonta and Bachelor of Divinity and Master of Theology degrees from Hartwick Seminary, Brooklyn, New York. He served within the Upper New York Synod of the Lutheran Church of America for more than thirty years holding pastorates in Greenport, St. Johnsville, Buffalo, Avon, Kendall, and Penn Yan. In June 1967, he became Program Director in Area III (Southern Wayne, Ontario, and Yates Counties) for the Basic Education for Adult Migrants (BEAM) program funded by O.E.O. In late 1967, he was transferred to the post of Field Secretary for BEAM in charge of gathering statistics on migrants in Wayne, Ontario, Yates, Oswego and northern Cayuga Counties. Presently, he is "retired" but still working in the migrant field as a member of the Task Force for a proposed REACH program in the central New York area.

PREFACE

This census of migrants residing in camps and housing facilities operating in eight western New York State counties in 1968 was commissioned by the New York State Center for Migrant Studies in Spring, 1968. In completing the study, every effort was made to secure the most accurate and relevant data from the growers and owners or their appointed representatives. A sample data form (see Appendix 1) was sent to each known grower or owner before meeting with them. Where meetings could not be arranged, information was pieced together from other sources and is reported as an estimate, marked with an asterisk (*).

The study was carried out in the last half of 1968. Nearly 17,000 miles were traveled and hundreds of visits were made to growers, processors, local Health Departments and officials, OEO organizations, Child Care Center representatives, school systems, migrant organizations, and farm labor leaders. Their cooperation was helpful and very much appreciated. Special thanks are extended to Mr. Arthur Rood, principal of the Florentine-Hendrick School, Wolcott, New York for his efficient and careful assistance in making possible the completion of this study.

A SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

A summary of findings of the census of migrants residing in camps and housing facilities (hereafter designated as camps) operating in eight western New York State Counties is shown in Table 1. The migrant population surveyed totalled 7,482 and resided in 226 separate living areas. The total population is broken down by ethnic type into four groups:

Ethnic Type	Percent of Total
Mexican-American	2%
Negro	73%
Puerto Rican	23%
White	2%

The total for each ethnic group is further divided into men, women, and children (under fourteen years of age). (Incomplete records were gathered for migrant children by age, sex, and address. These materials are available upon request from the New York State Center for Migrant Studies.) These categories, as well as the number of camps by ethnic group, are shown on the extreme left side of the table. The center of the table shows the number of migrants in each category as well as the number of camps for each of the eight counties surveyed. At the extreme right side of the table, the number of migrants in each category and the number of camps by ethnic type in all of the eight counties are totalled HORIZONTALLY (left to right).

To illustrate the findings shown in Table 1, consider the vertical column showing Chautauqua County. During the 1968 season, no Mexican-American or White migrants were counted in Chautauqua County. Of the Negro migrant population of 210, 109 were men, 26 women, and 75 children. The largest ethnic group of migrants were 292 Puerto Ricans: 285 men, 4 women, and 3 children. The TOTAL number of all four types of migrants was 502, with 394 men, 30 women, and 78 children. All of these migrants in Chautauqua County were counted in 15 camps, 3 of which were identified as primarily Negro camps and 12 as primarily Puerto Rican camps.

Tables 2-9 provide the sources for Table 1. There is a separate table for each of the eight counties surveyed. Each table shows the name of each camp, its location, and New York State Health Identification, and the number of persons (men, women, and children) in residence at the time the census was taken. The camps are also classified by dominant ethnic group in residence.
